The myth about tree plantations helping to protect forests			