
Pesticide Atlas

Agrochemicals are used all over the world in ever bigger quantities, and are advocated by agribusiness as if they were an inevitable component of food production. The most recent edition of the Heinrich Böll Foundation's Pesticide Atlas is the Brazilian edition, launched in December 2023, was adapted and launched in eight countries, in five languages. The material presents a broad overview of the theme, with data on use and impacts of agrottoxins on agriculture, health and the economy, among others.
