
Toolkit for fighting climate false solutions

In November 2023, Friends of the Earth International made available a very useful tool for organizations and activists that oppose false climate solutions. The publication is divided into three parts: the first presents evidences of impacts of such false solutions around the world; the second brings together a list of links to reports, summaries, articles and news stories on the issue; and the third is a guide to understanding the different and complex mechanisms that drive – dangerously – the carbon markets.
